Ten years ago, No Worries Café was a local's secret spot, but now the word is out and lines frequently form at the door. Former 5-star hotel chef Dante Eggan makes quality and consistency the norm at No Worries, transforming a small highway diner (located at the top of Parley's Summit on I-80) into one of Utah's favorite breakfast joints.

The most popular items are the award-winning Biscuits & Gravy, & Eggs Benedict. Newcomers should try "Dante's Inferno" (a spicy, savory frittata-style concoction)
